THE Academy of St Olave's ends its 2007 concert season with a bang in the opening number tomorrow at 8pm at St Olave's Church, York.

The orchestra's timpanist, Francesca Rochester, is the soloist for the rarely heard Concerto for Percussion and Small Orchestra, by Milhaud.

This is followed by Edvard Grieg's Peer Gynt Suite and, after the interval, the Academy completes its journey through the last three symphonies of Mozart with the Jupiter Symphony.

In addition, a children's performance of the Milhaud Percussion Concerto and the Peer Gynt Suite takes place tomorrow at 10.30am. Tickets cost £2 on 01904 644528 or at the door from 10am.
